

Author Spotlight

“A real-life adventure story set in the wilds of Norway. ... This gritty memoir is a testament to the resilience of an outsider who not only made her way in a patriarchal society but also became a Norwegian celebrity.” —Kirkus Reviews

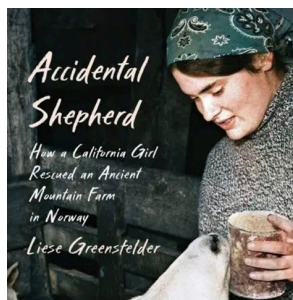

LIESE GREENSFELDER

LIVE and In Person at KHOI Radio 622 Douglas Avenue in Ames

Tuesday, May 6 at 7 PM

Books for Sale & Author Signing

Presented by The Ames Writers Collective and KHOI Community Radio, & supported by Ames Commission on the Arts (COTA)

Liese Greensfelder

With a B.S. and M.S. in plant sciences, and a master's certificate in science communication, Liese has written hundreds of articles in science, engineering and medicine. She and her husband live off-grid in a 5-household cooperative in the Sierra Nevada foothills, where all members jointly manage their 120-acre forested parcel for old-growth habitat.

khoifm.org

ameswriterscollective.org